About Company

 Provided by Customer

Established in Taiwan in 1989, Seven Ocean Hydraulic Industrial Co. LTD, has since expanded operations, with two factories built in China (Shanghai and Zhejiang), and one most recently built in Chiayi, Taiwan.

Providing you with world-class hydraulic valves and hydraulic power systems, Seven Ocean Hydraulics has been making quality hydraulic parts for customers worldwide, and has also supplied OEM services to renowned Japanese, European and US companies. We have built an automated production line in compliance with international standards and established modern plants in both Taiwan and China.

Our products include Solenoid valves, directional control valves, proportional valves, and hydraulic power units. We put quality first, with all our valves complying with ISO standards. Our valves are easy to install and maintain, ensuring that our products are user-friendly. Our products are reliable, sustainable, and cost-effective, bringing you long-term value at an affordable price-point.

With hydraulics being so versatile in so many applications, Seven Ocean Hydraulics sees hydraulics as a means of limitless potential. We design collaboratively with the customer to ensure that every custom design meets with their unique demands. We take pride in the quality and ruggedness of our products. We're committed to creating and maintaining long-term partnerships, to be a company that you can trust to provide you with what you need, when you need it.

Seven Ocean Hydraulics is CE, ISO 9001, and TUV certified, with a commitment to upholding our high standards and improving upon them every day. Your satisfaction and trust in us is of utmost importance to us, and we strive to exceed your expectations. As an industry leader in Taiwan, we are the founder of Taiwan's Fluid Power Association, and work with several universities to collaborate on new technology and ideas to be implemented into our product line.
