About Company

☐ Provided by Customer

Rextron International, Inc. founded in 1998 is a key leading company in IT industry. It has dedicated its engineering resource in developing KVM Switches, Professional Audio/Video Products and the related Computer Peripheral Equipment. Rextron's business started from building its own brand "Rextron" in early years and later also provided OEM/ODM services to its clients over 40 countries worldwide with its advanced technology.

Rextron is committed to provide its clients with innovative design, systematic production and manufacturing service to satisfy the requirements from all its customers. Its service includes circuit board design, PC board layout, software and firmware programming, mechanical design, artwork, packing, and the related safety certifications. Rextron takes great effort to protect itself and its customers' IPR (Intellectual Property Right), therefore it has invested heavily in applying the new patents for its products every year. As of today, it has owned more than 100 categories of patents to protect both Rextron and its customers IPR.

Rextron's main products include server control products such as Console Drawers, KVM Switches/Extenders. Its Pro-A/V products comprise Video Switch/Splitter/Matrix/Extender/Converter, EDID Feeder and USB / Datacom which include USB Extender/Switch/Serial Extender. With the unique design, they are ideal for home theater, education, resident, commercial, hospitality, board room, enterprise, military and entertainment. As to a series of AV over IP products, it allows users to extend video and audio through Ethernet or control PCs from some distance away.

Due to our broad experience in IT Industrial, Rextron not only is equipped to provide great flexibility and speed for designing the customized products to meet our customer's requirements but also in R&D and the continuous development on the Large Scale Control System which is much suitable for control center, emergency room and stock market.
