About Company

☐ Provided by Customer

Hi-Q, the English name of the company, stands for "High Quality." It embodies the company's aspiration for its employees to be high-quality individuals, engage in high-quality endeavors, develop high-quality products and services, and establish a high-quality brand. By advancing eco-friendly and cutting-edge biotechnology, Hi-Q aims to produce premium marine health products, becoming an international leader in marine biotechnology and a responsible corporate citizen.

Founded on eco-circular aquaculture, Hi-Q has spent over 20 years exploring marine science, positioning its brand as the premier choice for brown algae health supplements and fresh, healthy seafood, dedicated to safeguarding the health of families. Committed to realizing its vision of internationalization, Hi-Q adheres to the corporate philosophy of "Nature, Health, and Happiness." It integrates ESG principles into its operations, embedding sustainability into its DNA, and pursues the brand mission of being friendly to the planet, living beings, and humanity. Hi-Q focuses on key issues such as marine conservation, healthy eating, and social care, actively injecting nature and happiness into society and everyday life.
