About Company

☐ Provided by Customer

Hannox is a professional medical & health care company that export a wide range of medical devices, health care products and pharmaceuticals since 2003.

Product series covered home care, baby care, wound care and dental care with main products such as glucometer, blood pressure monitors, baby nasal aspirator, infrared thermometer, oral wound rinse, liquid bandage and much more.

Over the past decade, Hannox has expanded a strong and worldwide market through a simple principle that we follow: Earn Customer Trust with Business.

CEO MESSAGE

We are people who involved in pharmaceutical and medical devices field for years. According to the trend of industry development, we found that people need an integrated solution of pharmaceutical and medical products instead of individual product.

Therefore, in 2003 Dr. Yan & Dr. Wang invited experts from biotech, medical products and pharmaceutical industry to build up the platform, Hannox, for serving our clients an integrated total solution.

Hannox dedicates developing innovative and competitive service, we share what we have and support our clients to win success in market. Just like you are one of our family.
