About Company

☐ Provided by Customer

Miyo Technology is a professional manufacturer of flexible heaters and trying to provide clients with the best heating solution. There's a lot of engineering knowledge and design experience packed into our flexible heaters. Unless you are thinking about heater design day and night, you might miss an opportunity to maximize safety and functionality and minimize cost.

When you involve us as your partner early in the design process, we can help guide you through the various aspects of the selecting the proper material and custom options to meet the needs of your application. Our Sales Engineers can provide you with the details as to how we can customize our flexible heaters to your specifications, not someone else's. Think of us as your engineering resource, not just as a supplier.
