About Company

☐ Provided by Customer

[Company Overview]

In response to the growing health consciousness and flourishing related industries in Taiwan in recent years, BioninTenneng was founded in 2006 to integrate high-tech biotech professionals and excellent industries, providing precise and effective solutions for people's health. BioninTenneng is a company dedicated to the development of probiotics, cosmetics, and health food. Through industry-academic alliances, they also collaborate with the academic community to provide high-quality products continuously.

[Message from the Chairman]

Fulfilling corporate social responsibility, creating mutual benefit, and building a happy enterprise. BioninTenneng focuses on the development and research of probiotics. Currently, we have mastered several original technologies, including microbial screening platforms, microbial domestication techniques, microbial hydrolysis and nanotechnology, and biological chelation mineral technology. We also collaborate with major universities and colleges to develop various probiotic products to help human health. What sets BioninTenneng apart from other companies is our use of bacteria as a production tool. "Whether talking about business or sleeping at night, bacteria never rest and are always working." We extract using probiotics in the front end and ferment using probiotics in the back end, and our bacteria can reproduce the healthy and vibrant next generation, thereby preserving the most original and complete state of the extract.

[Five Core Values]

From safe raw materials, transparent production, rigorous quality, unique product, customer service as consistent operations, to make consumers feel relieved, assured, confident, inspired, and cared for.

[Company Vision]

BioninTenneng is backed by a professional R&D team and continuously recruits top R&D talents from around the world while establishing professional marketing and sales teams. We not only innovate technologies but also cooperate with industry, government, academia, and research to demonstrate a strong ambition and development potential, establish a foothold in Taiwan, expand globally, and gradually move towards the cutting edge of biotechnology. We use novel technologies to assist humans in pursuing high-quality lives of beauty, health, and happiness.
